

You may know where I've been but look where I'm going...

Track My Steps: A Revolutionary Tutorial Curriculum

Dedicated to closing achievement gaps one county at a time

Tel: 919-264-3057 Web: www.trackmysteps.org E-mail: info@trackmysteps.org

June 2, 2010

Contact: Toshiba Rice

Tel: 919.264.3057

E-mail: info@trackmysteps.org

MEDIA ALERT

- WHAT: Plan of Action: WCPSS Achievement Gap
- WHEN: Wednesday, June 2, 2010 7:00 pm
- WHERE: Abundant Life 4400 Old Poole Rd., Raleigh, NC
- WHO: Track My Steps, local & state child advocacy groups, and churches
- WHY: New hotline, email, and tutorial support for WCPSS minority and low income families

Track My Steps along with government officials, community leaders, and local churches will produce a plan of action for minority and low income Wake County School parents and students. This is a: PLAN OF ACTION FOR CLOSING ACHIEVEMENT GAPS IN WAKE COUNTY. Minority and low income parents will be empowered with a FREE tutorial program that will provide assessments, remediation, and exposure to become college, university, or workforce ready. This new hotline and email support for parents and students will provide access to legal counsel and advocacy groups that will protect parent/students rights. Speakers will include:

Lindy Brown, Wake County Commissioner

Derrick Byrd, National PTA Membership Committee Chairperson

Benita Jones, UNC School of Law Center for Civil Rights

Jason Langberg, NC Legal Aid Advocates for Children Services

Toshiba Rice, President of Track My Steps

Stephen Mares, Principal of Broughton High School

Ronald White, Wake President of NAACP